About ISRNC-2026

The 2nd International Social Research Nexus Conference (ISRNC-2026), organised by Scholar Cave, is a premier virtual gathering of researchers, academicians, practitioners, and policymakers from across the globe. Building on the momentum of ISRNC-2025, this edition deepens dialogue around the most urgent socio-political, cultural, and environmental challenges of our time. Under the theme Reimagining Social Sciences for a Fractured World: Knowledge, Justice, and Transformation, the conference invites bold, interdisciplinary thinking that bridges theory and practice, the Global North and South, and the academy and community. Join us to co-create knowledge that matters.

Who Can Attend?

Scholar Cave warmly invites scholars, researchers, academicians, graduate and postgraduate students, development practitioners, policymakers, NGO professionals, journalists, government officials, entrepreneurs, and all individuals passionate about social research and global change.

Call for Papers

We are delighted to invite abstract and full-paper submissions for ISRNC-2026. The conference seeks original, peer-reviewed contributions that address pressing global challenges through rigorous social science inquiry.

- Abstracts: Accepted abstracts will be compiled in the official ISRNC-2026 Abstract Book (with ISBN).
- Full Papers: Selected outstanding full papers will be recommended and invited for publication in the International Social Research Nexus (ISRN), a double blind peer-reviewed academic journal published by Scholar Cave.
